

Elizabeth Brown Mynatt

Feb. 16, 1935-Apr 27, 2021

Liz was a lifelong devoted member of TWA Clipped Wings who belonged to several chapters. Liz and her husband Joe (honorary Clippie), hosted many meetings in their homes, contributing their time, energy, and generosity to Clipped Wings. Liz had a flair for living, great humor, and extensive knowledge of the airline and travel industry, having started her own travel agency while living in Dallas. And travel she did...to at least 75 countries on six continents. Liz flew from 1955-1960 and was based in MKC, SFO, and IDL.

Liz was larger than life. She loved traveling, opera, art, jewelry, fine dining, wine, gin, parties, books, and all while being active in the Presbyterian Church serving as Elder and singing in various choirs. She was an incredible cook who made her children, Ross and Katy, watch Julia Child and Graham Kerr on television instead of Sesame Street. A life-long reader, she was active in multiple book clubs right up until her passing.

Her happiest moments revolved around eating good food or wandering through the Smoky Mountains. Until the end, she was passionate about her family, her Pi Phi "sisters", and her Clipped Wings buddies.

One of the funniest anecdotes as told by her friend, Robin Burch, was about her guest bathroom. "It was painted bordello red and the walls were covered with original nudes from floor to ceiling. The ladies would stand in line to see her bathroom! When she turned 80, she got her first tattoo, a butterfly on her bosom. That was Liz! Unforgettable!"

Liz Mynatt, you led an amazing life and we will never forget you!
